

Tate Called Cold Blooded Murder

By LINDA DEUTSCH
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The prosecutor in the Sharon Tate murder trial has told the jury that Charles Manson is "nothing but a cold-blooded murderer who places absolutely no value on another human being's life."

"He loved people all right," Deputy Dist. Atty. Vincent Bugliosi said Wednesday. "He loved people in the cemetery."

The prosecutor was in the third day of closing arguments, methodically reading from the testimony by virtually every witness called in the state's 24-week case.

The six-month-old trial recessed until Monday when Bugliosi said he would finish the first part of his argument. However, he has promised to spend four more days arguing after the defense delivers summations.

Manson, 36, and three women followers, on trial for murder-conspiracy in the slayings of Miss Tate and six others, listened to court proceedings on loudspeakers in adjoining rooms. The women were ousted from court for the rest of the trial after a shouting, kicking melee Tuesday with bailiffs.

Manson, also ousted for criticizing the judge, was told he could return Wednesday but chose not to, attorneys said.

Bugliosi centered his argument on Manson who, he said, "has an insatiable lust for death, blood and murder ... and thinks it's just grand to murder human beings."

He portrayed Manson as a dictatorial clan leader with beliefs like Hitler. Manson's followers, said the prosecutor, were merely "robots" and "zombies" who obeyed slavishly—even in killing.

Much of Bugliosi's lengthy reading of transcript centered on testimony by state witness Linda Kasabian whose character he defended. Testimony has indicated Mrs. Kasabian, an ex-member of Manson's hippie-type "family," was a heavy drug user and sexually promiscuous.

"I'm not saying that Linda Kasabian deserves any medals or an award from the Kiwanis Club," Bugliosi said. "She is not an angel. But she is not cut out of the same cloth as the defendants ..."

"What does drug abuse and sexual promiscuity have to do with the price of jute in Pakistan, with the fact that Linda was with these defendants on two nights of murder?" he asked. "Nothing ... Linda was telling the truth."

War Toll in 5-Year Low

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today that 23 American troops were killed in action in Indochina last week, the lowest weekly toll in more than five years.

The command said another 46 Americans died from non-hostile causes, including accidents and illnesses.

It was the lowest number of U.S. battlefield deaths since 14 Americans were reported killed during the week of Oct. 17-23, 1965.

The weekly casualty summary also reported 160 Americans wounded in action last week, the lowest total in six weeks. A total of 44,167 Americans have been reported killed in action, 8,990 have died from nonhostile causes and 293,077 have been wounded since Jan. 1, 1961.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported 266 of its troops killed in action last week, the lowest total in six weeks, and said 886 South Vietnamese troops were wounded.

The U.S. Command claimed that allied forces killed 1,404 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong last week, compared to 1,392 the week before.

seen it anywhere?"

"Climb aboard, climb aboard!" boomed Santa. "I'll drop you off there. But I must say this is the first time I ever picked up three hitchhikers wearing tuxedos."

Just then Mrs. Santa Claus came running out waving a long piece of paper.

"You almost forgot your list of good children," she said.

"Never mind," said Santa. "I don't need it. This year I am going to give a present to every little boy and girl, good or bad. The bad ones will feel sorry then, because they know they don't deserve a nice present. It'll make 'em try harder to be good next year."

"That isn't according to Hoyle," said Mrs. Claus, who likes to play bridge. "But it does make sense, you old softie."

Santa stood up to crack his whip in the air—the signal to be off. But then he heard a small voice crying:

"Wait. Please wait."

It was Cluny, Santa's favorite little elf. The other elves gossiped about Cluny and said she was clumsy at making toys. But Santa knew it was only because she was so young. He liked her because she had a good heart.

"Here," said the elf, holding up a small shiny figure.

"What's this? What's this?" grumbled Santa. "You're too late. My pack is already loaded."

"It is only my present to the world," said Cluny. "I made it at night in my room—all by myself."

Santa took the little figure from her hands. It was a beautiful angel with butterfly wings and a robe of purest white. In her hands the angel held a small magic wand.

"It is the angel of peace," explained Cluny.

"Why, Cluny," said Santa, "this is better than all the other gifts put together. I'll see that your angel waves her wand for one day at least over every home on earth."

And he picked up Cluny and gave her a big whisker-tickly kiss on her cheek. Then he picked up his long whip again and cracked it sharply in the frost air.

"Ho, ho, ho, here we go!" he roared. "Ho, ho, ho, here we go!"

The eight reindeer leaped forward, and the big red sled began sliding through the snow. Faster, faster, faster, faster—and then they were off the ground and into the air.

Santa was on his way. And tonight, if you go to bed, he will come to your house, wherever you are.

Speaker John W. McCormack. Albert is unopposed.

At the moment, Reps. Hale Boggs of Louisiana, the No. 3 man in the leadership as party whip, and Udall are regarded as the front runners, but neither has the 128 votes needed if all 255 Democrats vote in next month's caucus.

Reps. O'Hara, B. F. Sisk of California and Wayne L. Hayes of Ohio are the others officially in the race. Either Edward P. Boland or Thomas P. O'Neill Jr. of Massachusetts is a likely last minute entrant.

Udall and O'Hara are the candidates of the members who regard themselves as national Democrats. Boggs' major strength is in the South, but he has a fair amount of support among older northerners loyal to the House establishment.

Sisk's appeal is mainly to Southerners and conservatives. Hayes has only a small personal following and is not regarded by the other four as a major candidate.

Under ground rules agreed to by the candidates Tuesday, nomination will be closed before the first ballot is taken, the vote will be by secret ballot, and the winner will need a majority of all votes cast.

Starting with the third ballot, the low man will be dropped each time if no one has a majority and another ballot is needed.

It is on the basis of the last step that the liberal-moderate coalition of proceeding. It is trying to make sure either Udall or O'Hara make it to the final round and that all their supporters then rally behind the survivor.

Since the prize is enormous—majority leaders invariably become speaker if their party stays in power—and both Udall and O'Hara are contesting fiercely for it, the problem is to see to it that their rivalry doesn't split their followers.

AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hoping to encourage opening of peace negotiations by Jan. 5, the United States has indicated willingness to assume heavy new obligations in the Middle East.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers assured Egypt and Israel Wednesday that the United States would join in guaranteeing a peace settlement in the traditionally crisis-racked area and would consider putting U. S. troops in a peace-keeping force.

The kind of active participation in peace keeping which could take both political and military form would mean a new degree of U. S. involvement in a foreign trouble spot.

And it would come while the United States is trying to extricate itself from Southeast Asia. Rogers outlined the U. S. position at a news conference Tuesday.

Officials said, however, that the U. S. is in fact deeply involved in the Middle East anyway because of long term interests there, commitments it has already made to Israel, its support for Arab states like Jordan and Saudi Arabia, and its peace initiative.

Rogers emphasized that the basis for any U. S. undertaking would be an agreement—primarily between Israel and Egypt for permanent peace in the area. He said the countries joining such a settlement would have to be satisfied "that they have sufficient strength to protect themselves."

He emphasized in responding to questions that the United States had assured Israel it could count on continued American support.

Once a settlement is achieved, Rogers said, the question of securing it would have to be negotiated by the countries involved.

cerned," Rogers said. "That we are prepared to play a role in providing guarantees—a responsible role, a role that's satisfactory to the parties."

He added the United States would participate economically in overcoming the devastations of war, would assist the refugees and would take "a very active role diplomatically."

Under questioning he made it clear that the Nixon administration's stand on sending American troops to the Middle East is less fully developed than its policy of readiness to join in guarantees of a peace agreement.

The present cease-fire between Israel, Egypt and Jordan is now in its fifth month. It is due to expire Feb. 5, the terminal date for the extension of the original three month truce.

Rogers cited the continuing absence of active war in the area as a reason for some optimism about the prospects for negotiations.

"We think 1971 may be a year of decision in the Middle East. We think the climate is very good," he said. Whether the Russians are pressing for a settlement as he said the U. S. is doing was a question on which Rogers expressed skepticism.

"I think it's quite clear," he declared, that in some ways the Soviet Union benefits by continuing difficulty in the Middle East. The U. S. has no intention, Rogers told a questioner, of joining in a peace-police force with Russia. He said that would be impractical.

Officially, however, that the U. S. is in fact deeply involved in the Middle East anyway because of long term interests there, commitments it has already made to Israel, its support for Arab states like Jordan and Saudi Arabia, and its peace initiative.

Rogers emphasized that the basis for any U. S. undertaking would be an agreement—primarily between Israel and Egypt for permanent peace in the area. He said the countries joining such a settlement would have to be satisfied "that they have sufficient strength to protect themselves."

Damage Suit Filed Against State Trooper

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A Fulton County man Wednesday filed a $100,000 civil rights damage suit in U.S. District Court in which he alleged that State Police Trooper Lloyd Martz of Salem beat him and knocked him unconscious.

Donald Albright of near Salem said he underwent brain surgery for injuries which he said were inflicted during the alleged beating. He sued for $50,000 actual damages and $50,000 punitive damages.

Albright alleged that Martz beat him with a blunt instrument and placed him in jail April 19. He said he regained consciousness in the jail and asked for medical attention but was refused.

Martz said Albright was arrested on charges of being drunk on a highway and resisting arrest. He declined further comment.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Copyrights And Copycats

To the would-be writer, few things are as precious as the words and ideas he has put together into a manuscript. Disquieting thoughts of literary copycats may cross his mind. Wouldn't it be wise to rush his manuscript off to Washington and have it copyrighted?

The trouble is, most kinds of literary material cannot be copyrighted in that manner. The only way to copyright a book or an article or a story is to actually publish it and to include, with that first publication, a "notice of copyright" (the kind of notice usually found on the back of the title page of a book).

Only after publication will the Copyright Office accept the material for registration. The registration, although not a copyright in itself, is useful in establishing the writer's rights in case of dispute.

Then what does protect his manuscript before it is published? It is protected, very effectively, by an ancient rule of law often called "common law copyright."

Under this rule, the writer owns his work automatically—just as the man who builds a bookcase owns it automatically. He need not go through any particular formalities in order to establish his rights.

Nor must he keep the manuscript secret to protect his "common law copyright." He may let friends read it. He may submit it to editors for possible sale. By doing so, he no more gives up his ownership of a work by submitting it to a publisher for appraisal.

Furthermore, his ownership has no time limit. While an ordinary copyright cannot last more than 56 years, a "common law copyright" may last indefinitely—so long as the work remains unpublished.

In one famous case, an unpublished story of Mark Twain came into the possession of a collector. But his plans to publish the story were blocked in court.

The judge held that even though 73 years had gone by since it was written, and even though Twain had been dead for 38 years, his "common law copyright" was still good.

MRS. REMMEL T. NUNN

Miss Jeri Land became the bride of Remmel Tolleson Nunn at 8 P.M. December 17th, in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Fayetteville. The Rev. David E. Johnson officiated.

The bride is the daughter of J. Col. and Mrs. Carey J. Land of Avoca and Little Rock AFB, Ark.; and the granddaughter of Col. E. A. Rudelius, Ret., Avoca, and Mrs. Nellie J. Land of Chattanooga, Tenn. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Michael E. Dennis of Farmington, N.M., and the late Claude V. Nunn, Jr., and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Nunn, Sr., and Mrs. W. C. Tolleson of Hope.

The brides gown of peau de soie and lace was fashioned with a natural waist and full gathered skirt. Lace with velvet ribbon pulled through, edged the scoop neck, bubble sleeves, and the lace train that swept from the back waistline. Her tiered illusion veil was secured to a bandeau of lace leaves scattered with pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Miss Janet Moore of Osceola, Ark., was the maid of honor, and Miss Courtney Mize of Atchison, Kan., and Miss Pamela Kirby of Baton Rouge, La., were the bridesmaids. Their floor length gowns were of purple crepe. The high neck and Empire waistlines were enhanced by a scroll of satin with embroidered flowers. Their veils were attached to a circle of purple scroll with the same trim. They carried bouquets of pink roses and carnations.

The best man was Michael Hill of Lordsburg, N.M. The groomsmen were: David Yocum of El Dorado, Christopher Fowler of Newport Beach, Calif. The ushers were Anthony Randall of Harrison, and Randy James of El Dorado.

Mrs. Homer Crow provided the organ music during the ceremony. Those assisting at the reception were: Mrs. Judy Wingfield, Monroe, Ark.; Mrs. Gilda Henry of Clarendon; Miss Rebecca Toon of Muskogee, Okla.; and Miss Laura Mc-

Campbell of Alexandria, La.

After their honeymoon in Mexico City, the couple will return to the University of Arkansas to complete their degrees.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS

Associated Press Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP) — If the major studios are making skinflints, then it's only natural that American International should start filming the classics.

That kind of obtuse logic prevails in the movie business nowadays. For 15 years, American International has been the maverick among movie companies, setting its own trends in defiance of long-established patterns. At a time when the major studios are flitting with X-rated pictures, A-I emerges with a classic that is determinedly G—for general audiences.

The film: "Wuthering Heights."

"Wuthering Heights"? From the company that gave you "I was a Teen-age Werewolf," "Beach Blanket Bingo," "Motorcycle Gang" and "Three in the Attic"?

"We try to watch the trends," says quiet-spoken James Nicholson, A-I president and former theater operator. "About a year and a half ago we saw that 'Romeo and Juliet' attracted a vast audience. We decided to look around for romantic classics."

"There were other signs," adds Samuel Arkoff, the reflective chairman of the board. "We were among the first to get into the youth-rebellion market with 'Wild in the Streets.' We began to sense that that vein had been pretty well mined."

"The audience was still in rebellion, but it was no longer interested in rebellion as a dramatic topic. We felt there was going to be an abrupt shift to love stories. But you couldn't feed them saccharine love stories; they had to be pertinent."

Searching through public domain—classics conveniently don't require story buys—Arkoff and Nicholson happened upon "Wuthering Heights." More faint-hearted producers would have blanched at the thought of remaking one of the great films of all time.

"We were hesitant," Nicholson admitted, "but we changed our minds after reading the book. We realized that there were many aspects of the Emily Bronte original that could not have been touched upon in the 1939 movie, because of the strictness of the production code."

American International plunged ahead, filming "Wuthering Heights" in England with Britishers Timothy Dalton and Anna Calder-Marshall in the roles played earlier by Laurence Olivier and Merle Oberon. The sexual nuances are in the new version but not offensively so.

The Wassail Bowl had been flowing merrily at the club. After all it was Christmas Eve. One last rubber game was in progress and the few kibitzers were watching happily as old man Z, who had been coaxed into one last rubber, reached a customary three no-trump.

We say, "customary" because Z felt that every hand might be his last and he might as well wind up in no-trump.

Z won the second heart and entered dummy with the ace of spades in order to lead a diamond. East played the six-spot and Z the nine while one of the kibitzers struck a few bars on the club piano and the other kibitzers burst into a chorus of "Santa Claus Is Coming to Town."

Z and North joined in the merriment and even the unfortunate West could not help a Christmas smile. Only East remained outside the merry circle. He suspected that he was the Santa Claus they were singing about, but he just couldn't see what present he had given the declarer.

It shouldn't be hard for you readers to see what he had done. Once he played the six of diamonds South was going to make his no-trump game plus overtricks. Had he jumped up with the king South could not come to more than eight tricks.

Second hand low is good general policy but this is one time when East had nothing to gain by holding back his king of diamonds. It couldn't do him any good later. It would have been worth its weight in gold if plunked right on the table.

A—Bid six diamonds. Your partner is trying to get to seven. You are willing, but are a trifle afraid that your spades aren't quite good enough to solidify his suit.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Your partner continues to six spades. What do you do now?

Queen a Tax Delinquent

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II of Britain is officially regarded by Cuyahoga County as a delinquent taxpayer.

The county auditor's office said Tuesday "Her Majesty the Queen in right of Canada" is listed as owner of the Canadian consul's official residence in Cleveland Heights. The county wants $27.74 for a 1968 street lighting assessment.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush-off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED for it, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

JUST CAN'T UNDERSTAND ADULTS

Dear Helen: Last year adults were beating their little pointy heads against boarded-up buildings and wondering what youth was coming to—all this trashing and violence on campus and off.

Seems they were scared out of their skins by the long-haired dope fiends and anti-war freaks with their bombs and torches, etc.

Yesterday I read in our paper an editorial titled "Return to Apathy?" It took out after students because they "weren't interested" again. It likened them to the "flop-eared Fifties" when nobody squeaked and the most excitement any college could expect was an over-stuffed telephone booth.

The writer said we didn't even take interest in the recent elections, and we seem to react with a general shrug when once-hot issues are mentioned. Then he wondered, "Have drugs caused this apathy?"

Ye Gods! Can't we do anything right? Maybe, just maybe, we've learned that violence only hurts our causes—as in the few showdowns and egg-throwings that happened during October political speeches. Maybe we figure we've won the war against war, what with Vietnamization and troop pull-outs (though I question THAT). So now we're working more quietly toward other goals, but we need time to re-group and get our breath.

Instead of accusing us of apathy, why don't adults recognize we're coming into the Sensible Seventies, and hand out a little credit? — ANOTHER STUDENT

Dear Student:

Given a chance to get their breath—they will...they will! — H.

Dear Helen:

I'm in love with Ann. But Betty, Ann's best friend, fell in love with me. Ann and Betty are still good friends, but now Ann won't speak to me because she apparently blames me for Betty's misery. Believe me Helen I had nothing to do with it!

Betty is still trying hard to get me to the altar, and I'm trying to get Ann there, with no luck. When even your own girl won't help you keep the competition down, who will? — JEFF

Dear Jeff:

If your girl is more loyal to her friend than she is to you, think twice about this marriage thing. — H.

Dear Helen:

I recently inquired about a job, but they wouldn't even let me fill out an application because my hair was "too long." The woman took one look at me and told me she didn't want a boy that looked like a girl.

I could see her point if my hair was down on my shoulders, but it doesn't even cover my ears.

Is there anything I can do, and if so, who would I contact? — ANNOYED

Dear Annoyed:

A private employer has a right to set his or her own dress codes even though they sound silly or extreme. Your only recourse, if you want the job, is to cut your hair.

I'd suggest, however, that you apply elsewhere. A boss this rigid might soon become your ex-boss, and then you'd have a black mark against your record. — H.

THURSDAY, December 24, Presbyterians Plan College Sunday
Sunday, December 27, will be College Sunday at the First Presbyterian Church in Hope. On this day, at the 11:00 o'clock worship service, the church will recognize its college students by putting them to work assisting in the ushering, in the choir and even sharing in the conducting of the worship service. The Presbyterian Church, like other churches of the community, has a number of college students who are home for the Christmas holidays. The Sunday after Christmas has been observed as the day for recognizing college students in the Presbyterian Church for years.

is known medically, and the reason it is so deadly is that when the kidneys stop functioning, the various poisons that are built up in the body cannot be eliminated. The kidneys, the world's most effective filtering system, take all these poisons out of the blood. The body has two kidneys and can continue to function normally with only one of them. However, if that kidney fails, there is no alternative to either special treatment or death. Kidney transplants, like other organ transplants, are subject to rejection by the body and for this reason the matching of the patient and the donor is all-important. The best donors are those in the immediate family of the patient. The techniques of selecting the proper donor for the patient have increased greatly in recent years. The only problem was that the patient had to be kept alive until the best donor was found. This problem has been solved. Medical technology has come up with a machine to perform the functions of the kidney through a treatment known as hemodialysis. This machine pumps the blood from the patient's body into a coil where the impurities in the blood are filtered out. The coil, made of plastic, contains a cellophane membrane through which the blood flows. The coil is immersed in a liquid similar in composition to blood and the membrane in the filter allows molecular-sized impurities to escape as the blood circulates and is returned to the body. The treatments must be administered twice a week to most patients and last about six hours each. The filter coil must be disposed of after each treatment and each coil costs about $20. The total cost per year for the patient runs from $10,000 to $14,000 for treatment in a hospital. A home dialysis machine that can be operated by the patient is now available, which brings the cost down to about $5,000 or less per year. Arkansas has the facilities for such treatments, however, they are not used at anywhere near their full capacity because most of the people who need them cannot afford the cost. The University of Arkansas Medical Center has two dialysis machines and the Baptist Medical Center and the Veterans Hospital, all in Little Rock, have one machine each.

Science Makes Inroads Into Kidney Disease
By JOHN GANNAWAY

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The doctor may break the news gently, but the point of the message is blunt and hard: Your kidneys have failed, there is nothing else that can be done and you might as well get your affairs in order, because within a month you will die. Quite a few people have heard this message in various forms and unfortunately, for most of them it proved to be true. Up until about 10 years ago, it came true for everyone who heard it, unless some miracle happened. Since then, medical science has made inroads into kidney disease and a few more people each year stay alive. The breakthrough came when the first successful kidney transplant was conducted. This offered hope for those who could afford the enormous cost. Continuing progress in surgical techniques and the invention of a device that could keep a person alive, even after his kidney became totally inoperative, also helped out. However, all the types of treatment remained so costly that the vast majority of people simply could not afford them. The problem associated with kidney, or renal disease, as it

Christmas

Luke tells us what Christmas is all about in chapter 2, verse 14, when he shouts — Glory To God In The Highest, and On Earth, Peace And Good Will To All Men. It takes only two words to speak the Christmas Message, — "glory" and "Peace." These words express the glory of God as no others do. That historic babe, born in a manger, has transformed a whole world. His spirit means Christmas in the life of humans such as we. In Him is embodied the love, patience, and essential goodness of the best man who ever lived—Jesus. He is the true example of the God of power and righteousness. Men knew he was all-powerful but had never known He was all-loving. We must not wallow away Christmas Day by guzzling up our blessings in dismay. Let us give of our best in the spirit of Joy. Exchange gifts, if you may, in memory of Him who taught us that it is always more blessed to give than to receive.

A VERY MERRY CHRISTMAS TO ALL!

Christmas Comes to Memorial Hospital

First and Second grades from Beryl Henry School entertain at the Hospital coffee for all employees.

Mrs. Mattie Mae Formby, Larry Patterson, and Judge Flis Odom have their chance to talk to Santa Claus.

Mrs. Mattie Mae Formby puts the finishing touches on the tree and gifts for her housekeeping department.

Lucille Phillips must have been a very good employee all year.

Ernest Duffie eagerly begins to open gifts.

Mrs. Estelle Wright and Rachel Turner put last minute touches to the many Christmas sweets.

Students Stage an Anti-drug Procession

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — Led by four shaggy-haired youths carrying a wooden coffin depicting "the longest trip," thousands of high school students coupled Christmas caroling with a mass candlelight procession against drugs.

Singing Christmas carols and shouting antidrug slogans, the marchers clogged traffic for more than two hours Tuesday night on busy Hollywood Boulevard, then went to a nearby park where a rock concert was staged.

"All this march meant to say was, 'give us a chance,'" said John Costello. "We have a hard drug problem in this area and we must fight it."

"I think we accomplished a lot," added the 18-year-old student at South Broward High.

The march was protested by businessmen who said it would hurt last-minute Christmas shopping. During the march some stores closed, but soon reopened.

"There are drugs everywhere you turn and young people are the easiest victims," said 18-year-old John Ackley. The student at South Broward High said, however, he never touched the stuff.

"I am proud of our young people and I'll back them all the way," said Ann Ignatowicz, who paced the pavement while her son marched.

The assault on drugs was launched at McArthur High, and supporters were enlisted from several other schools in Broward County.

"We don't like the idea of the older people looking after us," said Ken Eisner, an 18-year-old student at McArthur High. "We have decided to handle the problems ourselves, and that's what we are doing tonight."

The object of the march was to raise funds to fight drug abuse. "The struggle has just begun," said Costello.

Battle of Giants Won by Big Mac

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Big Mac won the battle of the Giants from the Big G. in college basketball.

Big Mac, or Jim McDaniels, 7-foot star of Western Kentucky, scored 46 points to 29 for the Big G, 7-foot-2 Artus Gilmore of the University of Jacksonville, and led the Hilltoppers to an upset 97-84 victory over the previously unbeaten Dolphins.

"This has to be the happiest night of my life," beamed McDaniels Wednesday night after the game between the nationally-ranked teams before 17,492 at Freedom Hall in Louisville.

"I don't think I could have played any better."

It was the sixth straight victory for the unbeaten 10th-ranked Hilltoppers and the first setback for the fourth-ranked Dolphins who had won five in a row.

UCLA, the country's top-ranked team, rolled over St. Louis 79-65 for its sixth straight. Third-ranked Marquette also made it six in a row by whipping North Texas 67-57.

In other games involving the Associated Press Top Twenty, Tennessee, No. 12, routed Oregon State 89-61 and Villanova, No. 13, whacked Stanford 96-76.

McDaniels fouled out with 2:51 left to play after hitting on 20 of 29 shots from the field and six of eight from the free throw line as the Hilltoppers avenged their 109-96 loss to Jacksonville in the first round of the NCAA championship postseason tourney last March.

"They were ripe for the plucking, so we harvested them," commented Clarence Glover, McDaniels' teammate. "Maybe Gilmore wasn't as aggressive as he usually is, but it wouldn't have made any difference because we were ready to play and we weren't going to be denied."

Gilmore was called for defensive goaltending four times, offensive goaltending once and had two shots blocked by McDaniels.

"They outshot us, outrebounded us, and outscored us," said Tom Wasdin, Jacksonville coach. "As for McDaniels, he's super."

Curtis Rowe and Sidney Wicks, with 20 and 18 points, respectively, again led UCLA as the Bruins broke loose in the second half to whip the Billikens.

"We've had some difficulty getting up so far this year," commented UCLA coach, Johnny Wooden. "We might be a little overconfident subconsciously."

Bob Polk, St. Louis coach, declared "they're obviously a great team." He declined to compare UCLA with Notre Dame and Marquette, teams St. Louis already has played, other than "Marquette is very quick and handles the ball well just like UCLA."

Dean Meminger led Marquette over North Texas with 20 points as the Warriors made it 18 in a row over a two-year span.

Jimmy England threw in 23 points to pace unbeaten Tennessee over Oregon State for the Vols' sixth straight. Howard Porter scored 34 to lead Villanova over Stanford.

Fordham kept its slate clean and it made eight in a row by downing Florida 72-55. Iowa trounced Iowa State 87-68 in the first game between the two teams in almost 36 years and Nebraska shaded Wichita State 72-71.

Tulsa wallowed Texas A&M 103-71 behind the 30-point production of Dana Lewis. UC, Santa Barbara, downed Temple 78-68 and Creighton humbled San Diego State 73-68 on four free throws in the last 11 seconds.

Rice went two overtimes to conquer Southwest Texas 98-94. In other games Northwestern overcame Western Illinois 85-85, Kent State humbled Pitt 67-60, Toledo routed Virginia Military 79-46, Idaho nipped Washington 71-70 and Seattle defeated Montana State 104-90.

Statistical Leaders to See Action

NEW YORK (AP) — Seven of the 14 statistical champions in the American and National football conferences will be in action in the NFL playoffs this weekend.

Kicker Fred Cox of Minnesota was the only repeat champion in either conference, taking the NFC scoring title for the second consecutive year. Cox had 125 points on a conference leading 30 field goals in 46 attempts and 35 extra points.

He scored in every game for Minnesota, extending his string of consecutive games in which he has scored to a league record 112 games. He also set a league record by kicking a field goal in 31 games before the string was snapped in the Vikings' 13th game.

San Francisco quarterback John Brodie won his first passing title in his 14th professional season. Brodie led in two of the four categories used to rate passers—24 touchdowns and percentage of interceptions, 2.6—and was second in the other two with a 59 percent completion record and 7.78 average yards gained per pass play.

Sonny Jurgensen of Washington had a 59.9 per cent completion record to lead in that category and Craig Morton of Dallas was tops in average yards gained per pass play with 8.79.

San Francisco rookie cornerback Bruce Taylor led in punt returns with a 12.0 average on 43 returns for 516 yards.

Brodie, Taylor and Cox will be in action in the San Francisco-Minnesota playoff game in Minnesota Sunday.

Detroit cornerback Dick LeBeau won the pass interception title with nine and will play in the other NFC playoff game, at Dallas.

Larry Brown of Washington won the rushing title and set a club record by running for 1,125 yards.

The other NFC leaders were Dick Gordon of Chicago in pass receiving, 71 for 1,026 yards; Cecil Turner of Chicago in kickoff returns, 32.7 average on 23 returns and 752 yards; and Julian Fagan of New Orleans in punting, with a 42.5 average.

In the AFC, Cincinnati's punting champion, Dave Lewis, and Baltimore's kickoff return leader, the Hawks.

Ellender Takes Job at Tulane

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Benjie Ellender, who coached Arkansas State to the No. 1 ranking among the nation's small colleges this season, was named today as the new head football coach at Tulane University. The Associated Press has learned.

Official announcement was to come at an 11 a.m. news conference.

Ellender, 44, quarterbacked Tulane in the 1940s and served as an assistant coach in 1959 and 1960, and led Arkansas State to an 11-0 season this year.

He takes over a job vacated last week by Jim Pittman, who left to head the football program at Texas Christian University.

He comes to Tulane after the Green Wave had its first bowl victory in 30 years, defeating Colorado 17-3 in the Liberty Bowl.

Central Heights Finally Won the Contest

NACOGDOCHES, Tex. (AP)—The Central Heights basketball team was in the shower Tuesday night, thinking all along it had been whipped by Douglass in a District 44B basketball game, when they got the word from their coach Dean Minor: "Get your stuff back on."

It seems there had been something amiss in the 75-74 "defeat."

The scorekeeper had found a missing point which belonged to Central Heights. That made it 75-75 and overtime.

Igalious Mills hit a field goal at the buzzer and Central Heights "won" the "Lost" game 83-81.

Mills finished the night with 62 points. Coach Minor finished with a very nervous stomach.

Patterson Returns to Baylor

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Jack Patterson, head track coach at the University of Texas, is coming back to Baylor as an associate athletic director.

Patterson will become athletic director at Baylor upon the retirement of R.E. "Bill" Henderson in 1971, it was announced Wednesday night.

Edwin Horner, athletic council chairman, said, "The council has voted unanimously to bring back Mr. Patterson and head up our athletic program. This is in no way a reflection on any member of our coaching staff, but in reality will bolster our program in that it will leave the coaches free of administrative responsibility so that they can concentrate on their respective sports."

Patterson brought three Southwest Conference track titles to Baylor before going to Texas in 1963.

He said he hated to leave Texas but is "pleased that I have been afforded this opportunity to return to Baylor where I had a most enjoyable stay before. I have great respect for Coach Bill Beall and the way he has motivated the football program."

er, Jim Duncan, will be on opposite sides in Saturday's play-off game at Baltimore and passing champion Daryle Lamonia will be in action at home Sunday against Miami.

Lamonia had 179 completions and tied with John Hadl of San Diego for touchdown passes, 22. Miami's Bob Griese had the best average, 58.0 per cent, and the best yards gained figure, 8.24.

Lewis averaged 46.2 yards on 79 punts and Duncan returned 20 kickoffs for 707 yards and a 35.4 average.

Jan Stenerud of Kansas City took the scoring title with 116 points on 30 field goals and 26 extra points.

The rushing title went to Floyd Little of Denver, who was bothered by back injuries in his last few games but still managed 901 yards on 209 carries.

Marlin Briscoe of Buffalo led in pass receptions with 57, John Robinson of Kansas City lopped the punt returns with 311 yards on 23 returns for a 13.5 yard average.

Bowl Games Begin on Christmas

By HUBERT MIZELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

MIAMI (AP) — Willie Bogan appears to be the epitome of a pro football cornerback prospect.

The Dartmouth senior is 6-foot-4, 205 pounds, hits like a ton and runs the 40-yard dash in 4.6 seconds.

Only one thing—Willie's not interested.

Bogan, a brilliant black athlete from Albion, Mich., has won a Rhodes scholarship and commented "I'll say it now, I'm bypassing pro football to study in England."

The scholar-athlete will be in the North lineup Christmas Day when the Yanks take on the South in the 25th Shrine All-Star game at the Orange Bowl.

A crowd of about 25,000 is expected for the 4:30 p.m., EST, kickoff. The game is televised nationally by ABC.

"My education comes first," Bogan said. "I could play pro football, I believe, and perhaps make big money for eight or 10 years. I am looking for something that can reap a lifetime of rewards."

The South holds a 11-10 edge since the Shrine event became a classic for top college seniors. But, the North has captured four in a row including a 31-10 victory last year.

Kansas State Coach Vince Gibson and an assistant from his Wildcat staff, Don Powell, will handle the Yanks while Miami's Walt Kichefski and Richmond's Frank Jones boss the Rebels.

Lynn Dickey is the best known of the North players. Performing for Gibson's K-State team, the 6-foot-4 Dickey passed for 6,208 career yards.

Kansas running back John Riggins is a 230-pound threat who averaged 102 yards a game this season for the Jayhawks.

Jim Lindsey, many pro scouts feel, may be another Terry Bradshaw—a hot quarterback from a small school. The Abilene Christian star is only 5-foot-11, but threw for an incredible 8,721 career yards and an equally amazing 64 touchdowns.

The Shrine game is the only bowl contest this weekend, with the action picking up Monday night when Toledo meets William & Mary in the Tangerine Bowl in Orlando, Fla., and the Blue facing the Gray in their annual All-Star clash at Montgomery, Ala.

Toledo, 11-0 and ranked 15th in the country, rules a strong favorite as the Mid-American Conference champion against William & Mary, the Southern Conference champ with only a 5-6 mark.

Unbeaten and eighth-rated Arizona State, 10-0, also will be the favorite Wednesday night against North Carolina, 8-3, in the Peach Bowl at Atlanta.

On Thursday night, New Year's Eve, Alabama, 6-5, faces Oklahoma, 7-4, in the Astro-Bluebonnet in Houston before the big New Year's Day fare.

In the Cotton Bowl in Dallas, No. 1 Texas meets No. 6 Notre Dame; in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif., No. 2 Ohio State clashes with No. 12 Stanford, and in the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans it is No. 4 Tennessee against No. 11 Air Force. That night in the Orange Bowl in Miami, No. 3 Nebraska opposes No. 5 Louisiana State.

On Saturday, Auburn, No. 10, meets Mississippi in the Gator Bowl in Jacksonville, Fla., and the East-West Shrine game will be played at Oakland.

In three other All-Star games, the Hula Bowl will be played in Honolulu and the Senior Bowl in Mobile, Ala., both on Jan. 9, with the All-American Bowl at Tampa, Fla. on Jan. 10.

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — One wore floppy socks and the other keeps his pulled up, but the similarities are more obvious than the differences. The physical traits are almost identical, the shooting touches familiar and the accomplishments parallel so far.

Pete Maravich of Louisiana State was college basketball's leading scorer last season and now Johnny Neumann of Mississippi is starting down the same path.

The 6-foot-6 sophomore from Memphis, Tenn., leads the nation with a 44-point scoring average and has sparked Ole Miss to a 6-2 record. Even more importantly from the Rebels' standpoint, Neumann's presence has spawned basketball interest at a school where football has dominated for years.

"John is like Maravich in a lot of ways, said Coach Robert 'Cob' Jarvis. "He has tremendous moves, is an outstanding shooter and has a real knack for getting open."

Maravich finished his college career last season with a 44.2 average by handling the ball on practically every play and taking the overwhelming majority of LSU's shots.

Jarvis concedes Neumann will be taking most of Ole Miss shots because "whoever can get the shots and put them in is the boy you want shooting. If he shoots 50 times a game and can hit the good percentage, that's what counts."

But Jarvis says his philosophy does not call for any elaborate schemes to work the ball to Neumann.

"When you start going to one player too much the defense can concentrate on him," explained Jarvis. "I feel this hurts you in the long run because when you find a team that can defense your best man your other players may be open and not know what to do since they haven't had the ball that much."

Many who have seen both play say Neumann actually has a better shooting touch than Maravich and handles the ball practically as well.

Shrine Game Players Visit Children

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Players from the East and West brought puzzles, crayons and other gifts in their annual pre-game visit to the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children here.

"They cheer you up," Santa Clara quarterback Dan Pastori said Wednesday as he held a 6-month-old boy who had both legs in casts.

"Instead of them thanking you for coming, it seems we should thank them," said Pastorini.

Other players here for the East-West Shrine Football game in Oakland visited with the young patients and signed autographs.

Gene Slough, a 230-pound defensive back from USC, turned the tables by asking an 8-year-old boy for his autograph.

The boy, walking on crutches, was delighted. He signed on a light blue helmet that says "Strong legs run so that weak legs may walk."

"This visit makes you appreciate what you have," said Dennis Dummit, UCLA quarterback expected to be a standout in the Jan. 2 game.

Blackman Has Good Support at Illinois

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Things are turning up roses at Illinois whose new head football coach, Bob Blackman of Dartmouth, lets it be known that the Rose Bowl is the Fighting Illini's goal.

Blackman, 52, had a .726 winning percentage in his 16 years at the Ivy League school, including 1970 among three unbeaten seasons. He replaces Jim Valek who was 8-32 in his four years at Illinois but left a heritage of some fine recruits.

Blackman, officially named as Illini coach Wednesday, said he had no timetable for putting Illinois into the Rose Bowl, but there was expectancy that it might be sooner than some may think.

"The Rose Bowl has a special attraction for me," he said. "It started when I was a 9-year-old in Long Beach, Calif., riding my bike to see the Rose Bowl game."

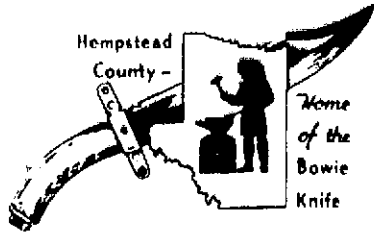

Blackman also played a high school championship game at the Rose Bowl site, which also was the home field when he was coach at Pasadena City College.

Christmas Greetings
From Editor, Homeward
Bound From Florida

SARASOTA, Fla., Dec. 20 (By Airmail)—Christmas greetings from your editor, gone from his post since Aug. 14 for eye and dental surgery here, but flying home this Saturday, Dec. 26.

According to my reservations I leave Sarasota at 7:10 a.m. Saturday on a National Airlines jet, arrive at Tampa at 7:30, then after a one-hour lay-over take off at 8:30 on a National jet for New Orleans. There is a lay-over of 3½ hours in N.O. before I get a Delta jet which lands me at 1:10 p.m. in Shreveport, where one of The Star staff is to meet me with a car.

But the big and busy Sarasota airport offers complications, and I have tried to plan alternatives to the 7:10 a.m. departure. Occasionally early morning fog rolls in from the Gulf of Mexico only a block away, and, there being no instrument landing system here, morning flights are canceled. A couple of Sundays ago fog closed the airport until 11:30 a.m. and 80 incoming passengers had to be landed at either Fort Myers, 72 miles south, or Tampa, 40 miles north.

Local officials at Sarasota and Bradenton, 12 miles north, the two county seats which operate the air terminal jointly, have been in a running fight for months with federal aviation officials on the question of installing an instrument landing system and agreement will be reached soon—but not soon enough to help me this Saturday.

So I have made a secondary reservation, in case of expected fog, to leave Sarasota on the last Tampa-bound plane at 6:10 Christmas night, spend the night at Tampa and catch the plane for New Orleans at 8:30 Saturday.

What happens if the weather forecaster says all will be clear and I cancel the reservation for Christmas night, and then an unexpected fog closes the local airport Saturday morning? That's a headache for my brother Charley, who retired as group life supervisor for Metropolitan at Pittsburgh and moved here last June. If I holler for help around daybreak Saturday Charley has to get up and drive me through the fog to Tampa to catch the 8:30 jet for New Orleans.

But I am twice lucky: That I had two sisters and a brother down here to keep me company as I made the medical rounds, and that I am able to get air reservations at all in this Christmas season. In fact, three lucky—for a business organization that carried on perfectly four long months when I was a thousand miles away.

Thanks to them, and to all of you—this Christmas-time.

Pay Raise for U.S. Workers Is Stalled

WASHINGTON (AP) — An estimated $1.1 billion New Year's pay raise for federal employees is stalled in Congress behind a defense appropriation bill, but congressional sources say it will probably be passed by Jan. 3.

The bill, worked out by a House-Senate conference, apparently faces no major opposition and the Nixon administration has indicated approval.

The Civil Service Commission would have to scramble, however, to put pay increases into effect in time for the first pay checks for 1971.

A spokesman said it was not clear whether raises could be made retroactive.

The bill would not legislate the increase directly but would set up machinery for the executive branch to make annual pay adjustments geared to competitive salaries in private business.

The first step, each year, would be a study of non-government wages as surveyed by the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Under the pending bill white collar salaries would be worked out—after the statistical study between the government and the employee unions, with mediation by a third-party advisory commission.

Troops Keep Watchful Eye on Holy Land

By MARTIN ZUCKER
BETHLEHEM (AP) — Under a warm, sunny and cloudless sky and the watchful eye of heavily armed Israeli troops, Christmas celebrations began today in this little town where Jesus was born.

The festival of His birth was heralded by bell, music and the arrival of Bishop James Joseph Beltritti, 60, the Roman Catholic patriarch of Jerusalem, making his first appearance as the spiritual leader of the Latin Christmas celebrations. He recently succeeded the late Msgr. Alberto Gori, who had been patriarch of Jerusalem for 20 years.

The prelate arrived in Manger Square, opposite the Church of Nativity, at the end of the traditional procession from Jerusalem, a few miles away. He was preceded by an escort of mounted Israeli police.

The bishop was greeted by the Israeli military governor of Bethlehem, Lt. Col. Yeshua Neeman, and the mayor of this predominantly Christian Arab town, Elias Bandak.

An Israeli police band, obviously not having one of its better days, played accompanying music—often off key.

About 1,000 persons were present in the square, most of them local residents.

Israeli soldiers carrying sub-machine guns walked through the square, patrolled the narrow ancient alleyways of the town and stood lookout on rooftops. Israeli police also were out in force and a helicopter whirled overhead.

Only visitors with special permits were allowed in the town through police checkpoints.

The strong armed presence and precautions have been a regular fixture of Bethlehem's Christmas since Israel captured this and other Jordanian territories in the 1967 war.

Since that time, Arab guerrillas have annually issued warnings to tourists and pilgrims to stay away.

In Manger Square a summery sun moved the mercury up to 70 degrees. A priest at the church of the Nativity said it was the warmest Christmas Eve since 1967.

Bishop Beltritti led afternoon prayers in the Old Crusader Church, where he would later conduct pontifical midnight, Mass.

Folks, He's Off--Jolly Old Santa Claus Is on His Way at Last

By HAL BOYLE
NORTH POLE (AP) — He's off!

Santa Claus is on his way at last!

The jolly old Saint and his famous reindeer are zooming through the arctic skies right now, heading for the American border. He'll reach it tonight.

The northern lights switched to a clear steady green—the "go-ahead" signal. And the Royal Canadian Mounted Police sent Santa this message:

"We are clearing all air lines in your path, old boy. There is no sp limit for you tonight. The sky is yours. Go as fast as you like. Good luck!"

And Santa Claus needed that wide, clear road in the sky. For his big red sled was packed so full of gifts it overflowed. It looked like a big hay rick zooming through the crisp air.

"Oh, dear, oh, dear," worried Santa, just before the take off. "I do hope none of these presents falls out and beans some poor innocent rabbit down below. I believe this must be the

Health Care Gets Priority Next Year

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's chief science advisor says the flagship of the administration's 1971 legislative program will be reform of the nation's health care system.

But no new major outlays of federal money are envisioned, adds Dr. Edward E. David Jr.

"The program of health initiatives," said David in an interview Wednesday, "will be the big initiative for the administration in the coming year."

"It will be extremely good," said David, who has headed the White House Office of Science and Technology since September.

The 45-year-old former Bell Laboratories acoustics and communications scientist—the first top White House science advisor to come directly from industry refused to outline specifics of the Nixon health plan. But he said in general, they would cover:

—The need to make medical services available to all Americans.

—New emphasis on the "prevention of disease"—including accidents—as a method of reducing the need for health services.

—Ideas on "new health-care techniques and ... reforming the health care (delivery) system."

"As to how these things can be done is something on which the President will have a great deal to say," David said. He indicated the administration's proposals would be unveiled either in specific legislation, the annual health message to Congress—or both.

The science chief volunteered nothing on what the President might have to say on financing including whether the administration will propose an additional federal role in health insurance.

But at least one major administration official recently undercut any hopes that Nixon would back a new compulsory health financing plan.

Our thoughts and our prayers go in particular to those of you whose husbands, fathers, sons and brothers are now held in captivity by the Communist aggressors in desolate jails of North Vietnam," Thieu said in a message taped for broadcast in the United States. "We shall continue to do our best so that they could be reunited with you as soon as is humanly possible."

In a message taped for broadcast to U.S. servicemen in Vietnam, Thieu said: "Feelings of gratitude go to you from freedom-loving people everywhere because you are celebrating this holy season on the front lines to bring nearer the day when peace and freedom is securely established in this part of the world."

Woman Blames Politics for Loss of Job

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Mrs. Betty Walls of Little Rock says she lost a state job recently because of her involvement in politics.

After Mrs. Walls became active in American party affairs, she was temporarily suspended from her job as bookkeeper for the state Rehabilitation Service, she said.

She said that two days after the Nov. 3 general election she received a letter telling her she had been fired because of her political activity.

She said that she and her husband felt the action was politically motivated and would not have happened had she been a Republican or Democrat.

A request for reinstatement was denied Dec. 14 by the state Board of Education. Education Commissioner Arch Ford said the board adopted the position of Rehabilitation Service Director E. Russell Baxter, who said Mrs. walls' political activity had violated agency regulations.

650 Could Die in Accidents

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Safety Council estimates that between 550 and 650 persons will die in traffic accidents during the Christmas holiday weekend.

The estimate covers the period from 6 p.m. local time today to midnight Sunday.

The council also estimated Wednesday a traffic toll of between 400 and 500 for the New Year's weekend, a period of identical length.

Army Spying Reorganized by Laird

WASHINGTON (AP) — A major reorganization of military intelligence has been ordered by Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird following charges the Army carried out a vast spy operation against civilians.

In a move to tighten civilian control over the military, Laird directed that command of the Defense Intelligence Agency (DIA) be removed from the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the Pentagon's ranking military body, and placed directly under his authority.

"I want to be certain that Department of Defense intelligence and counterintelligence activities are completely consistent with constitutional rights, all other legal provisions and national security needs," he said. "These activities must be conducted in a manner which recognizes and preserves individual human rights."

Laird's orders, to "take effect at the earliest date practical" but not later than Feb. 1st, were spelled out in a memorandum to the Joint Chiefs; the civilian secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force and the directors of the various defense agencies.

Although the defense chief did not refer directly to disclosures last week that Army intelligence agents had spied on hundreds of civilians, he indicated this was one of the determining factors for his action and made reference to "abuses."

Daniel C. Henkin, chief Pentagon spokesman declined to explain what Laird meant by abuses, but noted the Army was ordered last June to destroy its voluminous intelligence files on civilians considered potential troublemakers.

For at least the past year, there have been charges in Congress and from former Army intelligence agents that military authorities were overzealous in conducting surveillance of persons involved in antiwar activities or leftist political groups.

Laird told Congress earlier this month these activities, instituted during the Johnson Administration when the Army was called on to help quell civilian disturbances, have been drastically curtailed.

But the controversy was renewed last week by Sen. Sam J. Ervin, D-N.C., chairman of the Senate subcommittee on constitutional rights, who disclosed information alleging the Army spied on more than 800 civilians in Illinois alone, including Democratic Sen. Adlai Stevenson III, and other political figures.

In his memo, Laird specifically directed the Joint Chiefs not to re-establish a separate intelligence agency once DIA was removed from its control.

Asks Rail Stops in Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The National Association of Railroad Passengers, a private organization, has suggested that a proposed national rail passenger service network include a Chicago-to-Houston route with stops at St. Louis, Little Rock and Texarkana.

The network, which was authorized by the Rail Passenger Act of 1970, will be submitted to Congress by Jan. 28 by Secretary of Transportation John Volpe.

A railroad official said Wednesday the proposed intermediary stops probably would not be approved.

Liberal Coalition Is in Striking Distance of House Leadership

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A coalition of moderate, liberal and younger House Democrats is within striking distance of electing one of its own to the key post of majority leader in the next Congress.

Quietly and out of public view, supporters of two candidates carrying the liberal banner, Reps. Morris K. Udall of Arizona and James O'Hara of Michigan, are working to insure they unite behind one of them after early balloting narrows the field.

Although the negotiations are delicate and could blow up at any stage, leaders of the coalition feel the prize is within their grasp. If they win, it will be the first time. The liberal bloc has never had a man in a key leadership position.

There are five announced candidates for the job of majority leader, which will be vacated when Carl Albert of Oklahoma, moves up to replace retiring

U.S. Oil Ships Collide in Java, 24 Die

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Twenty-four persons were killed Wednesday night when two vessels operated by an American oil service company collided in the Java Sea 30 miles east of Jakarta and one sank.

A spokesman for Pertamina, Indonesia's state-owned oil corporation, said all of the dead were from the Northern Dancer, a 90-ton passenger ship bringing 42 oil workers to Jakarta for the Christmas holidays from the oil drilling ship Thornton, anchored 80 miles off the Java coast.

The Northern Dancer, an air-conditioned passenger boat that belonged to the Santa Fe-Pomeroy Co. of New Mexico, sank after colliding with the 900-ton Aquadud, which was being used by the Independent Indonesian American Petroleum Co. to carry supplies to the drilling ship.

The Pertamina spokesman said 14 bodies were recovered by the Aquadud. The other victims were believed trapped inside the ship when she sank.

Many of the passengers were sleeping when the collision occurred, the spokesman said.

Eighteen survivors were picked up by the Aquadud. The cause of the collision was being investigated.

Slowdown in Spiraling Living Costs

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs rose three-tenths of 1 per cent in November, a sharp slowdown from October's pace of inflation, the government said today.

The increase was the second smallest monthly rise in 18 months and only half the amount of October's rise.

The consumer price index reached 137.8 per cent of the 1957-59 average, meaning it cost $13.78 last month for every $10 worth of typical family expenses in the base period.

The department also reported that the average paycheck of some 45 million rank and file workers dropped 66 cents to $121.07 per week and purchasing power was 1.8 per cent below a year ago because of a drop in the average work week and the rise in prices.

The report said the price rise in November moderated because of a substantial drop of food prices and lower gasoline prices.

Prices for clothing, housing, cars and consumer services went up.

The over-all level of living costs was 5.6 per cent above a year earlier, the smallest annual spread in 13 months.

The bureau said grocery prices in November dropped seven-tenths of 1 per cent including declines for beef, pork, poultry, eggs, fruits and vegetables.

Gasoline prices dropped six-tenths of one per cent, the report said.

Sweden Would Take American Prisoners

WASHINGTON (AP) — An aide says Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's staff has had contact with Swedish government officials and civilians about moving injured and ill American prisoners of war to Sweden.

But the aide added that there had been no formal contact with the Swedish government on the proposal.

North Vietnam was asked to cooperate in such a plan in a letter Kennedy said Tuesday he wrote June 23 to North Vietnamese President Ton Duc Thang. The Massachusetts Democrat said the letter proposed moving the men to a neutral country.

Countries other than Sweden also have been contacted unofficially, the aide said.

Under the Kennedy proposal, the men would be kept in the neutral nation until hostilities ended in Vietnam.

Charged in Bomb Threat

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) —

Danny Midgett, 17, of near Jonesboro was charged Wednesday with communicating a false bomb threat, according to Sheriff Floyd Johnson.

Midgett is charged with making a false telephone bomb threat to Valley View Elementary School south of here on the morning of Dec. 11.

Midgett has been in the county jail here since last week since being fined $25 and given a 15-day sentence in municipal court for disturbing the peace.

Conviction of making a false bomb threat is punishable by $1,000 fine or up to five years in prison or both.
